Dear Friends,

Greetings to you, your guests, and your supporters gathered for HG Plus' 2018 International Career Fair.

Los Angeles County appreciates HG Plus' partnership with USC's Marshall School of Business, Annenberg School of Communication and Journalism, and Price School of Public Policy to connect hiring companies with their diverse international student community. This provides an important opportunity to network and develop professional relationships with people of different backgrounds and fields of expertise.

Thank you for all of your hard work supporting students and businesses in our community.

Best wishes,

KATHRYN BARGER
Supervisor, Fifth District

Dear Friends,

I am writing to express my support for the International Career Fair led by the USC Career Center in collaboration with HG Plus.

Southern California boasts of a significant number of international students, many of whom possess foreign language skills and cultural understanding that can empower local businesses to meet an international market. During the 2015-2016 school year alone, international students contributed $32.8 billion dollars to the U.S. economy. When these students graduate, they can become a valuable contribution to the U.S. workforce.

The University of Southern California has a long history of supporting such students, and this spring it has partnered with HG Plus to launch yet another opportunity. HG Plus has already successfully linked students from multiple institutions with employers of their field, and will undoubtedly help create even more such partnerships at this event.

On behalf of the United States House of Representatives and the people of the 27th Congressional District, I offer my support and best wishes for the International Career Fair.

Sincerely,

JUDY CHU, Ph.D.
Member of Congress, 27th District
